

Festival Radio Project 2005- Week 3

About Festival Radio Project. (Suggested Intro to clips)

The Festival Radio Project allows young people from around Edinburgh to get involved in the Edinburgh Festival Fringe. They become reporters and interview both the stars and the audience as well as reviewing the shows they see. Festival Radio Project is now in it's 11th year and the contributions from the young people just keep getting better and better. If you can't get to the Fringe Festival Radio will bring the Fringe to you!
